SONICWALL

Empower Your Customers with Seamless, Secure Access and Next-Gen Protection— Upgrade now with SonicWall's 3 & Free with CSE Promotion

SonicWall's 3 & Free with CSE promotion is your gateway to offering seamless, secure access to any resource, from any device, for all your customers—no matter where they are. Now, when your customers purchase a 3-Year Essential Protection Service Suite (EPSS) or Advanced Protection Service Suite (APSS), they'll not only receive our powerful Gen 7 next-generation firewalls for free, but also gain access to CSE (Cloud Secure Edge) licenses, enhancing security while simplifying access across the board.

In today's digital landscape, where businesses are becoming increasingly cloud-first and mobile-dependent, the old ways of securing networks are no longer enough. Your customers are facing new challenges: securing application access, protecting endpoints, and shielding their networks from advanced threats like ransomware. Traditional hub-and-spoke network models simply cannot address these growing concerns. What they need is a modern solution that simplifies security without compromising on effectiveness.

With CSE, you can offer a cloud-delivered solution that consolidates the functions of multiple traditional network appliances—like remote access VPNs, web proxies, and firewalls—into a single, unified, multi-tenant cloud service. This simplifies deployment, management, and scalability for organizations of any size. And by leveraging your customers' existing SonicWall next-generation firewalls, you can easily enable CSE's Secure Private Access services without any additional hardware investment, helping them enhance security and performance without disruption.

Not only will your customers benefit from best-in-class security and simplified access, but you'll also unlock new revenue streams by offering a solution that's both highly sought after and effective in today's market. With the 3 & Free with CSE promotion, you can help your customers ensure they have the right tools to defend against modern threats and position yourself as a trusted partner in delivering robust, future-ready cybersecurity solutions.
